

The sickest practical joke ever “never been done”

IMPORTANT NOTE: PLEASE READ THE SUMMERY AT THE BOTTOM!!!!

What I am about to describe is extremely innovative and has never been done in the recorded history of human kind. Imagine a joke that is so funny yet is probably the worst thing that a person could do. Let me first put this in perspective by saying “android cyborg humans being played by to humans mass murdering several hundreds of humans”.

The process before this will also take much preparation and planning. Not only to successfully kill as many humans as possible, but also make sure that it is recorded as the most bizarre act ever to be done by anyone.

The biggest problem with cereal killers and any other form of human annihilation and genocide are: it has never been done by someone who is truly artistic. I mean Hitler and Eric Harris both share similar interests but both lack creative qualities. They will be remembered as crazy depressed people with a lot of low self esteem and prejudice as well as mentally disturbed among all men. What if any of these killers actually progressed an artistic craft and increased there intelligence through some sort of median and strive to transcend there human body, Being both spiritual and physically fit by doing Yoga once a day. The killers are concentrating way too much on there anger and kind of ignoring the abilities to fabricate there thoughts through painting and electronic music.

STEPS TO BECOMING AN ARTISTIC MASS MURDERER.

#1. The person must stop thinking about what they want to accomplish and start concentrating on there own philosophy by spending time reading and thinking in isolation. It's not about where you want to be, it's about you, them, myself, and I. Most musicians are too worried about all the girls they will get STD's from (without there knowledge of course because they are still thinking about the process of ejaculation, and we both know they don't want genera from 16 year old fan in the front row of his concert, as well as warts all over his small disease ridden uncircumcised cock) and all the attention from the audience. “Look at me, I am someone important” says the politician who is cheating on his 50 year old wife.

So back to the process of kung fu (time well spent) and self awareness. These killers have been doing it all wrong from the start.

#2. Once they have perfected there craft in isolation (32 Foot trailer), then they must share with others so that they can further complete there task of being the best. Now the public see this killer as being someone who concentrated on his own mind to inspire other artist's that make IDMBreakcoredrumpolkaelectronic tangosalsajaZZ. The killer is a wonderful person for bringing so much inspiration to his community.

#3 now that the killer has become one with himself as well as inspiring thousands, then he will plan a counter balance to all this good. Something from hell must happen to even out all this good he has done. Yin Yang “(light) electronic music murder (dark)”.

So now that the killer/artist has completed the 3 step P.L.T.S.M.O.J.T.M.K. (play the sickest most original joke to man kind) program, he must now do what he was destined by God to do.

His target is a football game. I went ahead and took a sneak peak into my mystical crystal ball to watch all the action.

The bomb explodes underneath the top 4 bleachers. The bomb was a fertilizer bomb filled with confetti. The confetti is used to confuse the people and make them bewildered while they trample each other in a panic. As the fans covered in popcorn, mustered, and confetti soaked in blood run out the exit of the stadium, 7 clown vans (with a 1500 watt set of JBL speakers attached to the top blasting the killers electronic music 1 different song per van to give variety) which is automatically being controlled with one of those auto driving computers, drives around shooting people with the submachine guns attached to the sides of the van. The final touch; the killer dressed up in an android costume blasting people away with his guns while screaming “kill all humans”. Eventually the killer is killed himself either by suicide or the cops.

The aftermath:

All the victims have been mentally affected in so many ways. Not only did they get post dramatic stress disorder, but they also have questions in there mind on why or how this could have happened. Why would this successful person who did so much for his community kill people? Obviously the professional psychologist will come up with some kind of name for his problem, but it is so much more than his sickness. It was an idea that was so original that he would never be forgotten. The killer left all this amazing art and people will all be interested in him for years to come. “Wow, he was crazy but look at all this art he did!” His music would get more noticed as well as his literature among everyone in the whole world!

The rest to this story is up for you to use your imagination on how it happened hypothetically.

IMPORTANT NOTE PLEASE READ!!!!

Hi,

My name is Samuel B. Glaser and I wrote this only to express a funny thought that me and my best friend came up with. The similarities of the killer in this story definitely fit my profile as being a musician and an artist. Under no circumstances would I ever do such an appalling act of cruelty. This idea is wrong and I am against it in ever kind of way. Please understand that I am just an artist with deep thoughts. Never will I hurt another fellow human being or deprive them of the gift of life. In the past written papers I signed “Samuel of the Zoogoo cult”. Again this is not really a cult. I describe my circle of musicians as a collective, and I have acquired the idea of a “cult” from my favorite artist SatanicpornoCULTshop. I hope you will read this and do not perceive it as a threat or warning BECAUSE IT IS NOT A THREAT. My mind is passive and I love all life around me.
